GOING TO THE FAIR.

By Mrs. M. C. H. H. H.

My little girl, I'm going to the fair.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

And you must go with me.

For I want to see the show.

The Mormon Prophet.

FOUNDED ON A BIBLE FACT.

One holy day in August.

1843, the inhabitants of the little village of H.

in Wisconsin, were gathered to a meeting.

at which the prophet of the new religion, Joseph Smith,

was to deliver a discourse.

At this time, a young girl, named Mary, who was then about ten years of age, was present.

She was a member of the church, and had been taught by her father, who was a prominent member of the church.

At the meeting, the prophet, Joseph Smith, delivered a discourse, in which he announced that he had received a revelation from God, commanding him to gather the people of his church to the city of Independence, Missouri.

At this time, the young girl, Mary, was deeply impressed by the prophet's words,

and she felt that she had received a revelation from God, commanding her to gather the people of her church to the city of Independence, Missouri.
